5. Community-Based Learning

Integrating community-based learning into academic curricula allows students to apply theoretical knowledge to real-world situations while addressing community needs. Projects that our students do for the fulfilment of their under graduation and post-graduation are the best examples of this linkages.

Continuing Education and Lifelong Learning

We have collaborations with Sree Narayana Guru Open University, Kerala, Distance Education, Calicut University, Continuing Education, Kerala and our physical and human infrastructure have been continuously using for the provision of life long education.

Centre for Continuing Education Kerala

Sub Centre - Government arts and science college, Calicut

Annual Report

Centre for Continuing Education Kerala imparts need-based training to the unemployed youth, provides special training for small-scale industries, publishes study material for regular and distance education programme, and conducts vocational training. The persistent effort of CCEK has been to make optimum use of the under-utilized infrastructure in educational institutions and make it income generating. The Centre is committed entirely to social upliftment besides the growth and development of technical education, industry and business.

CCEK is offering the programmes through its sub-centers established at Government/Aided Engineering, Polytechnic, Arts & Science Colleges and VHS Schools across the State. Each subcentre has an advisory committee comprising the College Principal, senior staff and the Manager of the Continuing Education Programme.

Based on the Tri-party Memorandum of Understanding executed between CCEK, PSU concerned and the Government Arts and Science College, Calicut, the College is identified for offering the following programmes.

Innovation Hubs: We create spaces where students, faculty, and community members can collaborate on entrepreneurial and technological projects. The college has various clubs like Entrepreneurship Development Club (EDC), Earn While You Learn and entrepreneurial attempt like Friday Bazar. The EDC of the college conducts various programmes that link the college with the community. It has collaboration with Kerala Biodiversity Board and organises various community linked projects.

The students of the EDC ran a stall for selling millets and products made using them. A variety of stalls for plants, magic and Pain and Palliative Care were also put up during the Bio-diversity congress.

7.Campuses of Calicut: A programme that link the colleges with the community

Campuses of Kozhikode is a project initiated by the Kozhikode District Administration with the aim of making use of the creativity and social commitment of youths in the sustainable development of the district. It provides the college students a chance to co-operate and interact with the district administration in the field of policy making and implementation for society. The college actively participates in the programme with two teacher Co-ordinators and 60 selected students.

Our members collected books to help the inmates of Aftercare home, Kozhikode to make a library. The student coordinators of our Unit handed over the collected books to the Mission Room Members, COK, Kozhikode on 19th November 2022.

The students and staff of Government Arts and Science College make every effort to hold the community close as we take strides towards realising our vision. The boundaries and gates are only physical barriers that separate the college from the people, as our initiatives have ensured that the college has place in people's hearts. This is what makes this institution distinct. We connect people with knowledge.
